- Play and explore and always 'have a go'.
- Are active learners who concentrate and persevere.
- Keep trying when they encounter difficulties.
- Enjoy their achievements.
- Think critically, having and developing their own ideas.
- Connect and see links between ideas.
- Can work in groups and pairs as well as individuals.
- Can self-regulate and develop patience and understanding.
- Communicate.
- Enjoy listening to stories.
- Develop into lifelong readers.
- Develop a sense of number.

To Implement this we will:

- Use Early Years Foundation Stage Framework and Development Matters to underpin our curriculum.
- Use hygge principles when planning provision and activities.
- Find opportunities to learn in and from the natural environment.
- Learn through play wherever possible.
- Adapt our subject specific curriculums where necessary.
- Teach a systematic synthetic phonics programme.
- Teach Mastering Number.
- Use stories to teach across the whole curriculum as well as developing a love of literature.qW
